FACULTY

The Executive Committee is one of several standing committees. This committee is composed of department heads and serves as a policy-making group with regard to overall plans and procedures. The membership of this committee is as follows: Sterling B. Mitchell, chairman, Frederick P. Abel, Virginia Alwin, W. Carlisle Anderson, Emma Birkmaier, Clarence H. Boeck, Donovan A. Johnson, Richard Laliberte, Ruth A. Marfell, Marjorie A. Swanson, Edith West, and Ben Whitinger.

We welcomed back Sterling B. Mitchell as principal of University High. Mr. Mitchell was assistant from 1946 to 1950. Being head of the High School Department of the University, Mr. Mitchell coordinates the high school and elementary school with the College of Education. One of his biggest jobs this year was planning and overseeing the final developments of our new University High School.

Frederick P. Abel, assistant principal of University High School, works with class schedules, extracurricular activities, and staff meetings. He enforces attendance regulations, discipline, and supervises at all athletic events. He is the faculty representative to the Parent Teachers' Association and advises our student senate.

ADMINISTRATION

FACULTY

Our senior first and fifth hour Social Studies classes are taught by Edith West. Miss West is head of the Social Studies department. Our last hour senior Social Studies class is taught by Eldon Modisette, who, in addition, teaches the juniors American History and Government. Robert Anderson instructed our seventh and eighth grades in Social Studies.

Head of the Arts department and teacher of the Industrial Arts section is Carlisle Anderson. His classes were taught to work with wood, plastics, and metal. Ellsworth Erickson spent a busy year teaching Art, advising our photographers, and aiding our yearbook staff. Bert Keeny, new instructor in the art department specializes in ceramics. Margaret Proshek taught our Home Economics classes as well as advising our school chapter of F.H.A. Our band and chorus was under the direction of Robert Aupperle.

In addition to his duties as head of the Physical Education department, Gareth Olson taught our boys' gym classes. Mary Lampe instructs our girls' Physical Education classes.

In the Math department Donovan Johnson taught higher Algebra, and was also head of the Math department. Other members of the department are Lyle Eakins, Theodore Kellogg, and Dirk Ten Brinke who instructed Practical Math and Algebra, Geometry, and seventh and eighth grade Math classes respectively.

The tick, tick, ticking coming from room 109 T.N.U.H. is our Typing and Clerical Practice classes doing their lesson for the day as assigned by Marjorie Swanson.

Clarence Boeck, head of the Science department, is our Physics instructor. Other members of the department are Merton Johnson, Ben Whitinger, John Wells, and Orrin Gould. Mr. Johnson teaches Chemistry, while Mr. Whitinger instructs the 10th grade Biology classes. Mr. Gould is our freshman Science teacher, and Mr. Wells teaches our seventh and eighth grade classes. Both Mr. Gould and Mr. Wells are new at U. High this year.

Emma Birkmaier, head of our Foreign Language department, instructs our Russian Classes. Spanish is taught by Robert Brett and German by Arnold Mendel. Lee Stark, our French instructor, also advised our wrestling team this year. Both Mr. Brett and Mr. Mendel are new this year in the Foreign Language office.

Ruth Marfell, our librarian, willingly helps anyone who comes into the library.

Our senior English classes are taught by Marjorie Ryan. Virginia Alwin, head of the English department, taught our juniors English. Teaching first and second year Speech and directing our play productions was Arthur Ballet. Jeanne Haagenstad taught sophomore English and was advisor to the "Breeze" staff. William Grassl taught freshman English, while our seventh and eighth grade classes were taught by Stanley Kegler.

Miss Marfell.

HEALTH

COUNSELORS

Two new faces greeted "U" High students as they sought help in selecting a vocation or college or in solving a personal problem. Miss Cornell is the new girls' counselor and Mr. Laliberte succeeded Mr. Carlson, winter quarter, as the boys' counselor.

Mrs. Patricia Brown is Mr. Mitchell's private secretary. She also handles school finances. In "the office" is Miss Edith Nyquist and Miss Ruth Strom.

Miss Geraldine Braucht is also new to "U" High, but she became familiar to us all as we visited her with various health problems.

The custodians, Roy Henjum and Ed Dammen, kept the building in fine working order.

MAINTENANCE

Roy Henjum. Absent, Ed Dammen.

SENATE

Senate meetings were held every Wednesday during the 1952-53 school year. Senate consisted of sixteen homeroom senators, five standing committee chairmen, and the four officers. Mr. Abel advised.

Presiding at the meetings was the president, Ken Nighman. "Veep" Jay Goldberg served as the head of Social Committee and reported all social events to the Senate. Minutes were taken by Barbara Barton, and the Senate's finances were handled by Win Mott.

Working with the Senate were the standing committees. All charters were read and events publicized by the Charter and Publicity committee, chairmanned by Mical Eitsert. Buildings and Grounds Committee, under Kay Klinkerfues, saw that the care of Shevlin was designated to homerooms, and that all posters were approved. Assemblies were scheduled and approved through Gail Humphrey and her Assembly Committee. Throughout the year, problems between students and faculty were discussed by the joint Student-Faculty Committee and its chairman was Roger Johnson.

AVOC

Every morning from room 203, faint strains of music can be heard creeping out from under the door and floating through the open transoms.

Look in on any social or academic activity and you will see A.V.O.C. members helping everyone who needs their services.

A.V.O.C. stands for Audio Visual Operators Club. Headman in Avoc this year was John Osterberg. Terry Olofson, secretary, worked hard with John to make sure all assignments got to the right person at the designated time. Rushing a public address system to a pep fest, a movie or a class, records and a phonograph to a dance in Shevlin kept each member on the run. The boys learned a lot about audio-visual machines, while they rendered a valuable service to the school.

The organization is open to boys in grades 9 through 12. New members are taken early in the spring and are put through rigorous training by the club's faculty advisor, Ben Whittinger.

Serving the school by supplying pictures for Biz, Breeze, and other organizations, Photo Service became one of U. High's most useful clubs. Ellsworth Erickson, the advisor, informally taught the club members the "art of photography."

By taking pictures at football games, parties, dances, and all-school events, Photo Service really aided the picture editors of Biz and Breeze.

Helping the departments, was another service the club performed. Photo Service could always be called to take pictures for classes and record activities in demonstration groups, thus setting up a visual record. Faculty and student body share equally the benefits of Photo Service.

Photo Service is open to any senior high student with an active interest in photography. Bill Johnston was club president and Don Backstrom was secretary-treasurer. "Very good, now try it with film," was heard constantly through the year.

The members of Junior High Photo Club, under the direction of their faculty advisor Ellsworth Erickson, went on to their second year of learning the art and technique of photography.

The purpose of the Photo Club is to introduce the junior high boys to the art of photography and also prepare them for work in senior high. The organization is open to any boy or girl in the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades who has an interest in photography.

Officers this year were: president, Leon Locabanne, who was also one of the originators of the organization, vice-president, George Moskol, secretary and clerk, Tom Quaid. They all joined forces to make the club a success.

Dummy! Layouts! Copy! Deadlines! These were familiar words in the Biz room as the staff frantically worked to get the Bisbila on the press.

Layouts were worked out by each section editor. Each editor was helped by the art staff to arrange his or her layouts in an artistic manner. The art staff also designed division pages and drew all the cartoons for the book.

Copy was written by each section editor, checked by the copy editor, and retyped on "copy sheets" for the printer.

Deadlines were met at the American Yearbook Company. The Executive Board met and worked personally with the publisher and printer. Their cooperation and constructive suggestions were a great asset in teaching the staff yearbook responsibilities. It was a thrill for the Bisbila staff to see their book rolling off the presses.

The "dummy" soon changed from a rough, crudely drawn plan to a refined, printed yearbook!

BREEZE

Scoops! News! Feature! Sports! These are the things that make up the Campus Breeze. Beat reporters helped in maintaining the "All-American" rating that the paper has held from 1937 to 1952.

Heading the staff of the 1952-53 Breeze was Jay Goldberg, editor-in-chief. Kallitsa Mavroulis, copy reader, and her assistant, Kate Coffey, saw to it that the copy was in good shape when it went to the printers. "Two cars in every garage and a column in every issue" was the do or die cry of news editors Carol Christmas and Kay Klinkerfues. Chuck Christensen and Jackie Jaenisch assisted them.

The funny bone of the paper, feature page, was edited by Sue Levin. Assisting her were James Gerald and Mary Lee Van Ness. Having his name first under the familiar "Sports Reports" was one distinguishing feature of sports editor Jim Awada. Bill Harris, Roger Johnson, and Mike Mann assisted Jim. Exchanging copies of the Breeze with other schools was the job of Mitch Johnson.

"Down Breeze staff, down," is the phrase that has become associated with Breeze advisor, Jeanne Haagenstad.

The 1952-53 school year proved to be a very busy one for U Club. The main purpose of the club is to promote interest in sports among U High students and their families, but the boys didn't stop at this. Besides arousing an interest in sports, they also sponsored a number of social events.

The president of U Club was Russ Mills, and the secretary-treasurer was Ken Baker. With Gary Olson, faculty advisor, and all of the members behind them, Russ and Kenny saw to it that all aims of the club were fulfilled.

New members were initiated early in February, and on the same evening a dance, open to the whole school, was held.

PEP CLUB

Under the direction of Marjorie Swanson, faculty advisor, and Barbara Nimmer presiding over meetings, Pep Club went on to another full year. The Club sponsored the annual Basketball Homecoming Dance, which this year was called the "Basket-Ball."

U High cheerleaders were also sponsored by Pep Club. They were: Kallitsa Mavroulis, Jackie Jaenisch, Marilyn Johnson, and Barbara Johnson. "B" squad cheerleaders were: Mimi Hanson, Judy Anderson, and Alice Skovran.

The main purpose of the club is to promote school spirit and good sportsmanship. Marlys Evans, "veep," Mimi Hanson, secretary, Ginger Mears, treasurer, and Sonja Thorshov, publicity manager, worked hard with Barbara Nimmer and Miss Swanson to fulfill these aims.

THES-PIANS

Thespians is an honorary society to encourage work in the dramatic arts. Members are chosen on the basis of interest in the field of drama, and on points received for acting, directing, and working on crews in Thespian sponsored productions. Ten points received over any period of time are required for membership.

Leading U High's troupe, No. 763, this year were James Gerald, president, Kallitsa Mavroulis, secretary, Barbara Nimmer, treasurer, and Ken Nighman, program chairman. Art Ballet was troupe advisor.

Thespians sponsored all the school plays during the year. "Huck Finn" took place late in fall quarter, "The Adding Machine" during winter quarter, and "Three for a Laff" and "The Miser" in spring quarter.

QUILL & SCROLL

Quill and Scroll is an honorary society for outstanding high school journalists. Each year membership is awarded to senior members of the Breeze and Biz staffs.

Candidates for membership are chosen by the members of the two publications and their advisors, Miss Haagenstad and Mr. Erickson.

A candidate for membership in Quill and Scroll must be outstanding in photography, writing, editing, or proof-reading. Artisitic work, such as creating layouts, is included also.

A sample of the student's work is turned in to the national board of Quill and Scroll for judging. This work must be approved by the board before students can be elected to the society.

Membership cards and pins were given to the "Quill and Scroll-ites" at the spring awards assembly. This year thirteen students were elected to the society.

FEDERATION

The Federation of Languages is composed of the four officers of each of the four foreign language clubs, making a total membership of sixteen. The four language teachers, Emma Birkmaier, Russian; Robert Brett, Spanish; Arnol Mendel, German; and Lee Stark, French, advised the group. Early last fall the two officers of the Federation were elected, James Gerald as president, and Gerry Gamble as secretary.

The formal initiation of new foreign language students into their respective clubs climaxed a day of informal initiation early in November. Each year the language clubs, with Federation co-ordinating the plans, put on the "Holiday Hop" and the "Mardi Gras," which are for all students. James Gerald chairmanned the "Hop," which was held on the 20th of December, and Chuck Christensen directed the plans for "Mardi Gras," held on "Gras Tuesday."

FHA

The Future Homemakers of America is a national organization for pupils studying home economics in the junior and senior high schools of the United States and territories. It gives girls an opportunity to plan and carry out activities related to homemaking.

Leading the U High chapter this year were Barbara Johnson, president; Ann Leary, vice-president; Mary Ewing, secretary; and Nancy Anderson, treasurer. Mrs. Proshek was the advisor.

Other officers were appointed by the president, after they filed for the office of their choice. Maureen Whitefield acted as parliamentarian at the monthly meetings, while Nancy Bloomquist and Bobbie Robison led the members in group singing. The scrapbook was kept by Abby Diamond and Elaine Drulenski. Betsy Berman reported the club's news.

Two of the many projects planned and carried out this year were: Thanksgiving baskets, and the Daddy Day party.

STAMP CLUB

With the addition this year of many new members, especially from the seventh grade, Stamp Club numbered about twenty-five collectors. With this increase in membership, the club launched a completely new and interesting program. In the fall a new constitution was adopted and the election of officers took place.

Steve Howard, as president, presided at all meetings, with Dick Watson assisting him. Minutes of the club's activities were taken by Mayleane Trask. Mr. Ten Brink advised the club, and helped co-ordinate the plans.

The formal initiation of new members into the group took place during winter quarter. The highlite of the "philatelists'" program was the stamp exhibit held this spring. It was the climax to the year's program.

The Chess Club was formed by a group of battle hardened chess players in need of an opportunity to play chess without the eternal necessity of disposing of the infernal kibitzer.

The idea has met with great success, and since the membership has grown large enough, it is now possible to forcibly eject kibitzers. The organization has not yet decided, however, what to do with those of its members that insist on singing opera music while playing chess.

The Chess Club, under the leadership of James Gerald and Win Mott, is looking forward to many more years of chess games, and thanks its advisor Mr. Merton Johnson.

Service Scouts is an organization whose main purpose is providing students to usher at football games, basketball games, P.T.A. meetings, and to clean up after parties, dances, and dinners. Under the direction of Lyle Eakins, their faculty advisor, they do an excellent job.

The top man in Service Scouts this year was the executive secretary, Roger Montgomery, and working with him, Dick Jenson. The other officers in Service Scouts this year were program chairman, John Wolf, and secretary-treasurer, Fletcher Davis.

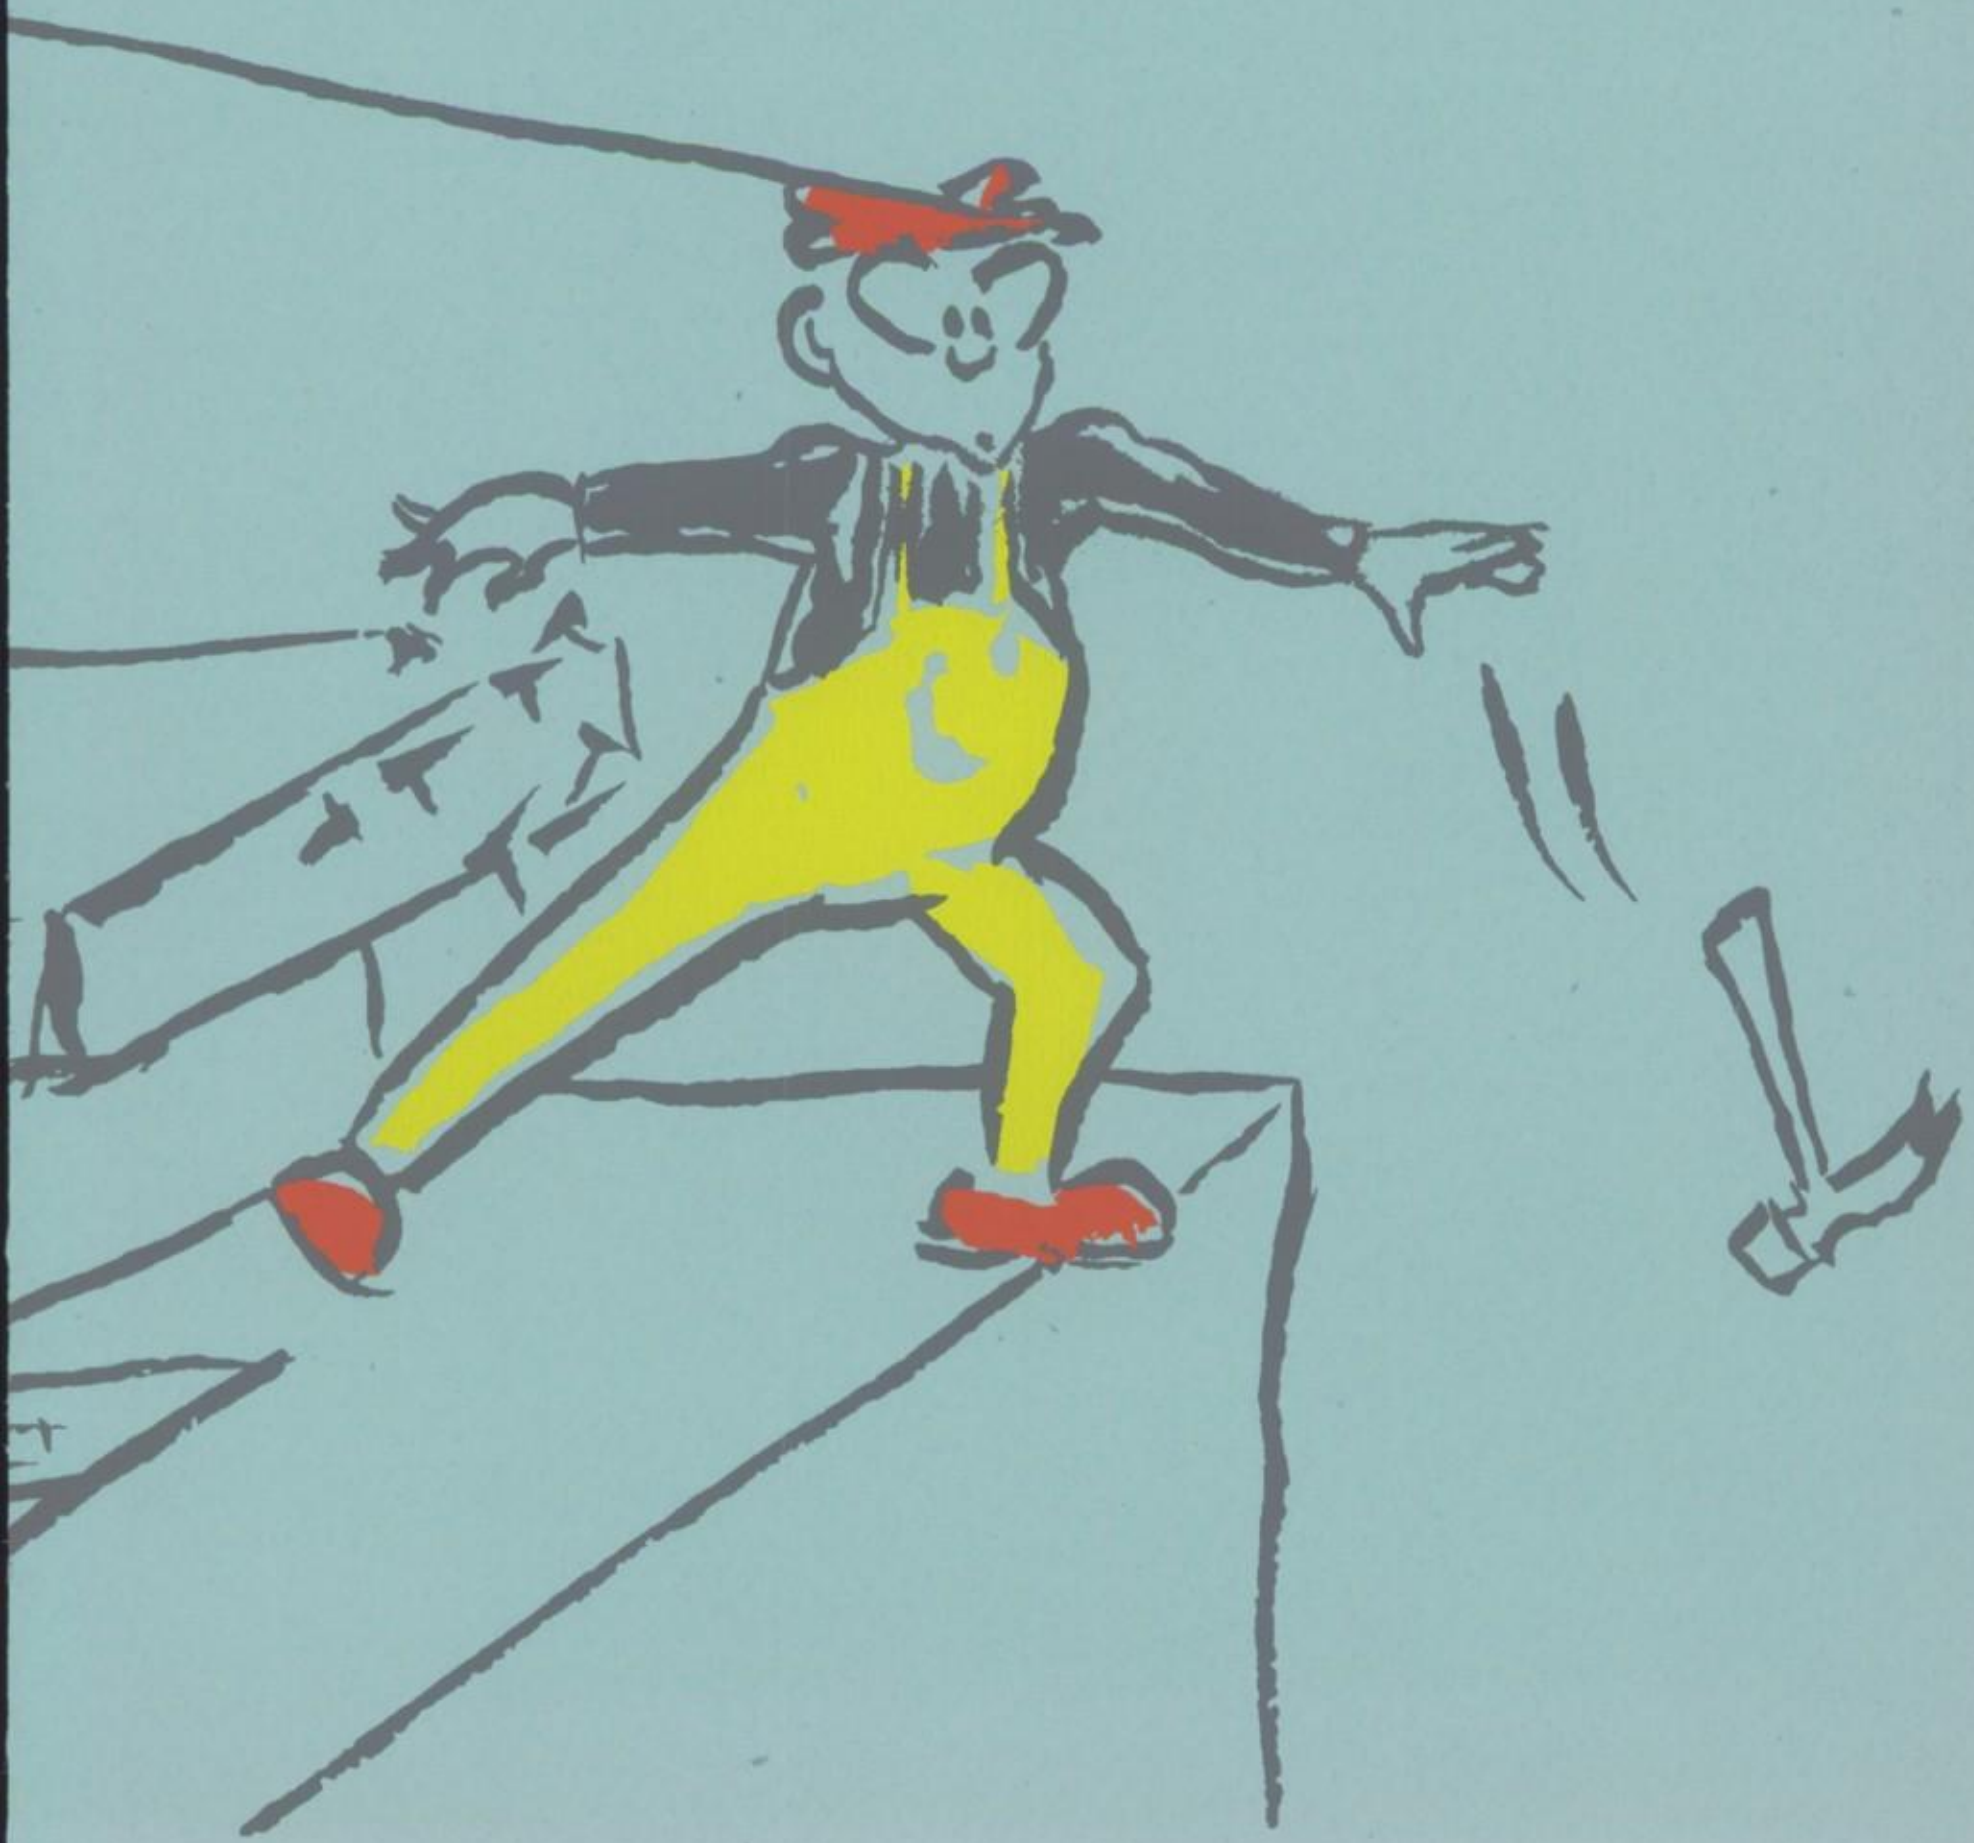
BOWLING CLUB

During its second year at U High, Bowling Club noticed gains in several directions. The attendance figures nearly doubled the ones set during the previous season, and scores continued to soar as marksmanship improved. All year the sights of the bowling enthusiasts were set firmly on that all-important king pin.

The more than sixty keglers invaded the Coffman Memorial Union alleys every Monday and Tuesday after school. Leading the club this year were: president, Roger Johnson, vice-president, Don Bryant, and secretary-treasurer, Linda Kienitz.

Dividing the responsibility of supervising the Bowling Club's activities were its two advisors, William Grassel and Stanley Kegler.

FEATURE



HUCKLEBERRY FINN

Never before has U. High tried to produce a Junior High play, and the results were both enjoyable and nerve-racking. Art Ballet, the director, received his morning and evening exercise by chasing all the little ruffians through 209 and 210, especially Jimmy Whiting alias Huck Finn, who enjoyed play practice for the sole reason of sending Mr. Ballet into a tantrum. Mayne Smith's guitar could be heard with the male quartet of Dick Triemert, a southern slave, John Campbell, the great Duke impostor, Tom Quaid, the romeo Tom Sawyer in blue, and John Darley as the great King. As this was the first production of "Huckleberry," adapted by Dr. Whiting, everyone was interested in the results of the production, which were really great.

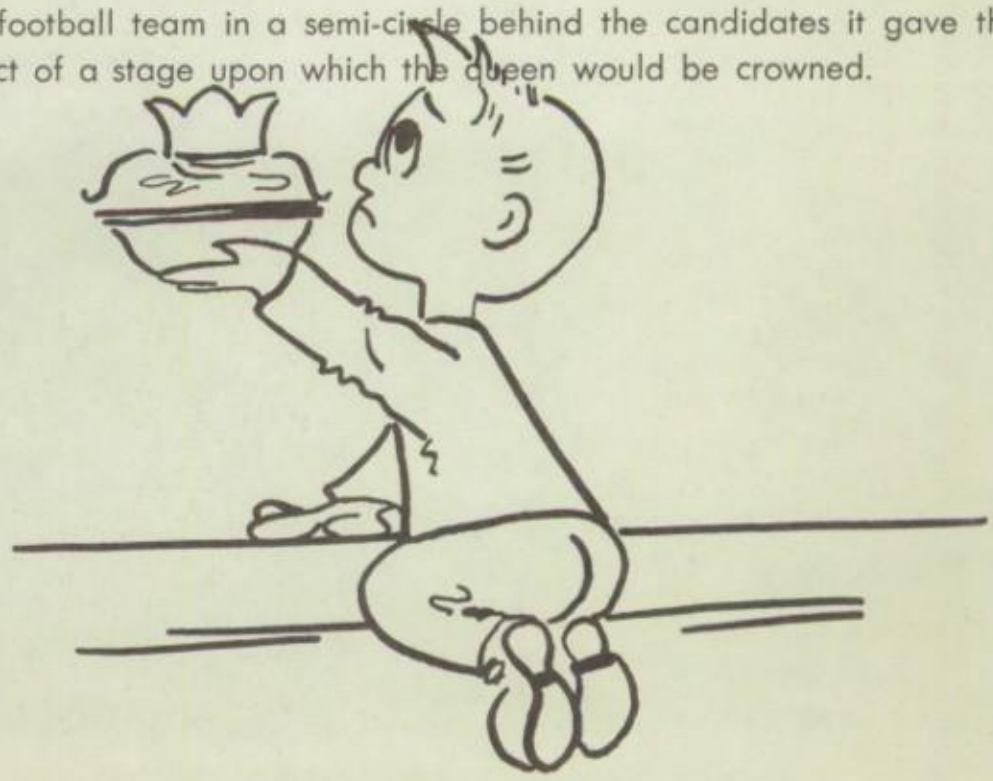
Halls decorated with posters informed the students of the 1952 homecoming festivities. The Junior Class, led by Linda Kienitz, arranged for the event. Pins, newspaper articles, and assemblies publicized the highlights of the grand affair. Floaters and posters bearing the names of the queen candidates were distributed around the school. At an all-school assembly, October 15, skits were given announcing the respective candidates. October 21 each student cast his vote for his favorite candidate.

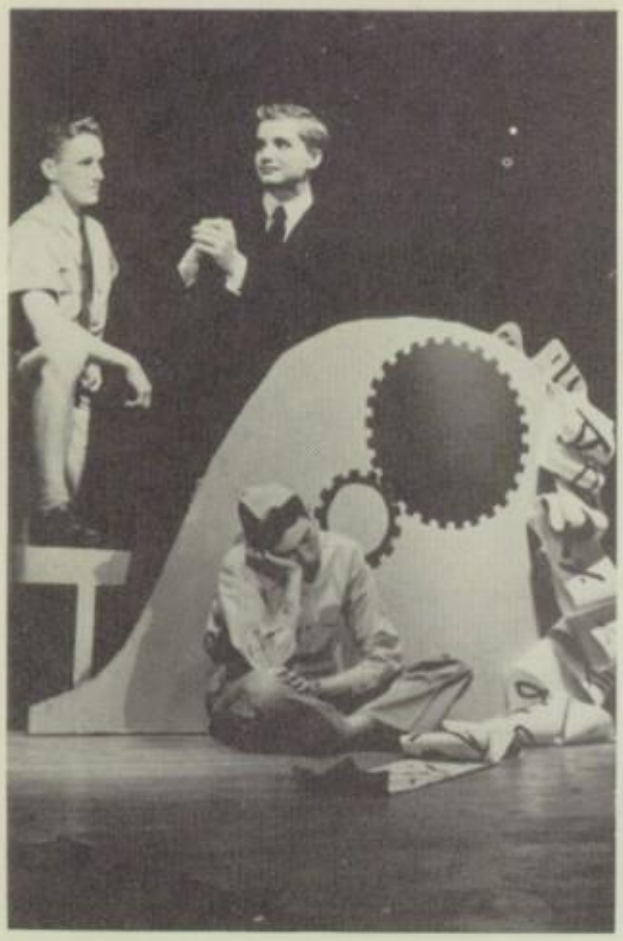
Before the game, at Marshall Field, the crowning assembly was held. When Linda announced the coming of the royalty, they rode on the field in a red convertible amongst the cheers of the crowd. With the football team in a semi-circle behind the candidates it gave the effect of a stage upon which the queen would be crowned.



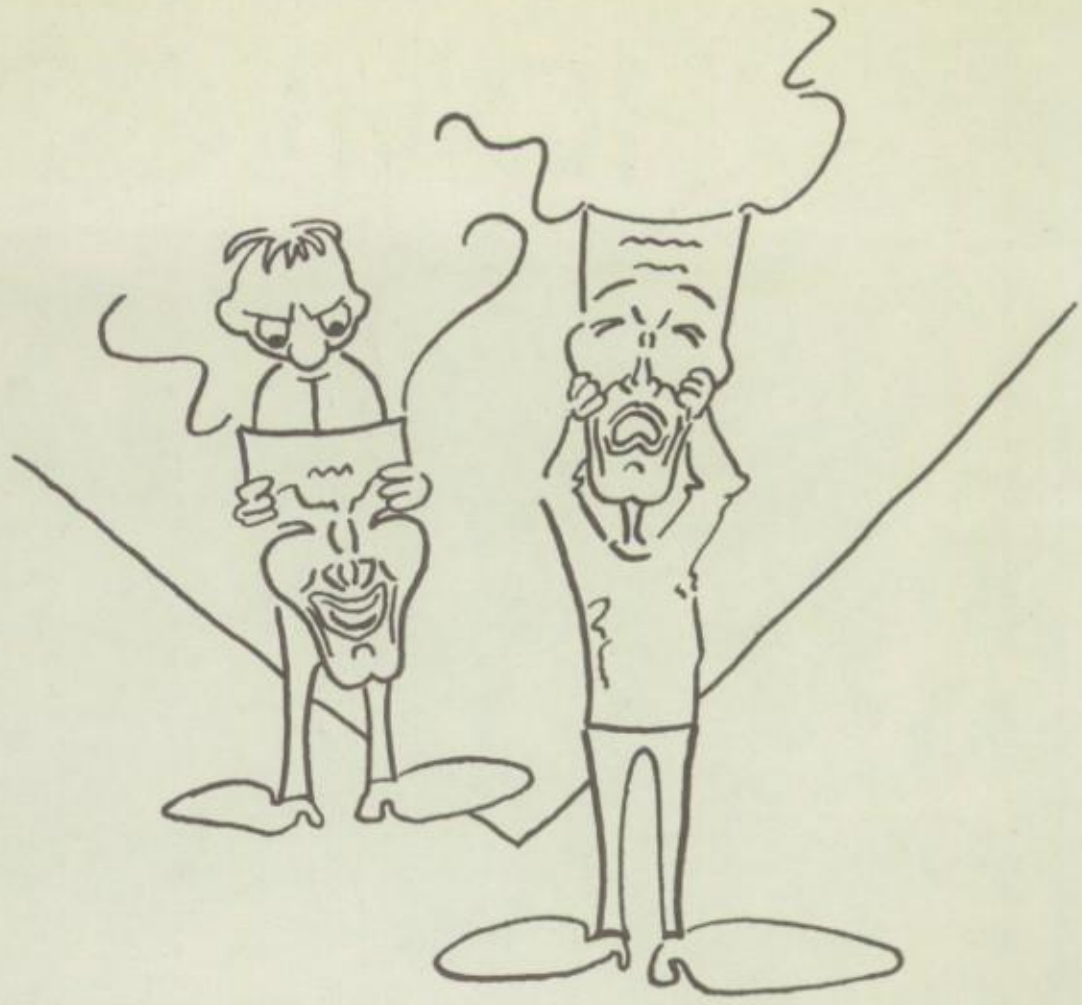
HOMECOMING

Ken Baker, football captain, took the crown from Sherry Evans, 1951 queen, and placed it on the head of Kallitsa Mavroulis, the 1952 U. High Homecoming queen. The robe was placed on the queen and she was presented with two bouquets of flowers. Mike Prichard, Steve Nieman, and John Levine, three members of the team, gave the attendants, Judy Christensen and Janna Broeck each a corsage. Escorted to their seats the royalty reigned in all their splendor over the game.

That evening in the Junior Ballroom of Coffman Union the all-school dance was held. Gala decorations added to the success of the event. Bruce Dibvik's fine band played from nine to twelve o'clock. After the intermission Don Fogelberg presented the queen and her attendants lockets and bracelets to remember their reign at Homecoming.



Clockwise: The Adding Machine; Judy Steinberg; Kallitsa Mavroulis, Gordon Whiting, Bob Tema; Gordon Whiting.



"The Adding Machine," an expressionistic play in seven scenes, was the annual production of the advanced speech class.

The play depicted the early 1930's. It was the story of Mr. Zero, an everyman, who was driven to murder by a web of circumstances. Only after death, does Mr. Zero realize his futile life.

Gordon Whiting portrayed Mr. Zero, his wife was Judy Steinberg, and Kallitsa Mavroulis was Daisy.

Art Ballet directed the play, assisted by Kay Klinkerfues, Gail Humphrey, and Bill Tucker.

THE ADDING MACHINE

CHARITY DRIVE

A new method of collecting money for charity was adopted at U. High this year. The Senate Social Committee led the 1953 all-school drive. Jay Goldberg co-ordinated the entire event, with other members of the committee directing each part of the week long drive. For four days records were played in the cafeteria. After school on February 6, a Sock-Hop was held in the new gym. During the dance, an auction was held with the money collected going to top this year's goal. Highlighting the week-long drive, was a Student-Faculty basketball game.

HOLIDAY HOP

A huge red ball overhead and silver Christmas trees near the wall of the main ballroom decorated the site of the annual Holiday Hop, Coffman Memorial Union. James Gerald led the Federation of Languages, who were the sponsors of the gala affair. Everyone danced to the Christmas music of Bruce Dybvig's band. A nearby table held cookies and punch that were enjoyed by all. During the intermission members of each language club performed a traditional dance. Steve Howard, the master of ceremonies, led English Christmas carols, while the teachers of each language taught the group songs typical of Spain, Germany, Russia, and France. A festive spirit reigned as students, faculty, parents and friends left wishing each other a "Merry Christmas and Happy New Year."

THREE FOR A LAFF

This year the all-school play was a composite of three one act plays. First of the three acts, was Milne's "The Man in the Bowler Hat." This play was a take-off on all murder mysteries from the beginning of time. John and Mary, Bob Milavetz and Nancy Anderson, were hosts to all the activities which took place in their home. The entire cast for the farce comedy was from fifth hour speech.

"The Happy Journey," by Thornton Wilder, is a picture of an American family. Although it had a sad twist, it was a comedy also. Mike Mann was Arthur; Don Backstrom was Elmer; Judie Nighman, Carolyn; Sally Eastlund, Kate; Mareen Whitefield, Beulah; and John Osterberg was the stagemanager.

A satire, "If Men Played Cards as Women Do," by George Kaufman, was put on by the first hour speech class. Dick Walker, John Levine, Clarke Summers, and Chuck Christensen were Mark, Bob, George, and John respectively. The pictures on this page are, top to bottom; The Man in the Bowler Hat, If Men Played Cards as Women Do, and The Happy Journey.

Art Ballet directed the plays and was assisted by Sonja Thorshov, Gail Drury, and Sue Levin.

Highlight of the Junior-Senior Prom, which was held on May 17, 1952 in the main ballroom of Coffman Memorial Union, was a grand march. An arch covered with blue bachelor buttons and white carnations was used for the march.

Couples danced from 9 to 12 o'clock to the music of Steve Dunning. Black dance programs with silver lettering told the names of the songs, and carried out the theme of "Black Magic." Jay Goldberg and Barbara Nimmer were co-chairmen of the event.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

MARDI GRAS

Chuck Christensen led the Federation of Languages in their Mardi Gras this year. The costume dance was held in the Campus YMCA, February 17. Hugh Cardenas' band played in the main room, while in another refreshments were served.

The week before the dance, clues to the identity of the king and queen were made public. Just before the intermission, Jim Awada guessed the identity of the king, who was Don Bryant, and Mical Eitsert guessed the queen, Janna Broek. During the intermission, Peggy ohnson and Steve Nicholson won prized awards for their original ostumes.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

Clockwise: Ken Nighman, Dick Walker; Russ Mills, Janna Broek, Bindy Goldman, Don Backstrom; Cast of the Miser.

Moliere's "The Miser," was chosen by Art Ballet, director, as this year's senior class play. Ken Nighman, the miser, was an old man who found himself in cris-cross love affairs. Cleante, played by Russ Mills and Janna Broek, who is Marriane, used all of Moliere's tricks to be alone. Don Backstrom, Valere, and Bindy Goldman, Elise, discovered being alone was impossible for them too. Cooking for the miser, was Jaques, played by Dick Walker.

Adding interest between scenes were the lackies, Bob Tema and Tony Baer. Bringing more confusion into the scene was Frosine, Myra Golden.

Other seniors in the cast were: John Osterberg as Ansilme, Jim Awada as Mr. Simon, Roger Johnson as La Fleche, Jay Goldberg as the Magistrate, Gail Humphrey as Brindacoine, Lou Ann Solosky as Le Merluche, and Carol Christmas as Mme. Claude. Val Pink and Bob Tema assisted Mr. Ballet in the production.

TEAM CAPTAINS

The football team elected Ken Baker at the end of the season. Coach Olson favored this method to electing a captain at the beginning of the season since it would give the opportunity of being game captain to more of the boys. All of the seniors and some of the juniors were appointed field captain for at least one of the football games. Ken Baker was the only senior on the wrestling team and was elected their captain also. Dick Weisbrod piloted the swimming team through a good season. Dick, a junior, won honors in the state meet as a sophomore when he took third in the 100 yard free style event. Dick Walker was elected basketball captain at the end of the season after being high scorer in his junior year and senior year. Gary Olson guided the football, basketball, and track teams this year.

The Little Gophers went into their 1952 football season with a handicap of two seasons without a win. They opened their season September 12th against the strong Watertown team after four weeks of practice. The U High offense made only one first down, but their defense held well. The team played better against Shakopee the following week, but their mistakes cost them four touchdowns. Jim Awada made the first Gopher score of the year in the fourth quarter after he faked a pass and was forced to run. Against Chaska, U High showed real power on two long touchdown drives. John Levine and Ken Baker both scored. U High met Bloomington, a definite underdog, but on the Gophers' first play, John Levine took the snap off the T and handed it to Jimmy Ellis, who went 45 yards for the score. Bloomington scored twice in the second quarter and once in the second half. Next week the boys failed to stop Norwood and scored only in the last quarter when Jim Awada intercepted a pass and ran it for a touchdown. The spirit was high for the Orono game. U High had drubbed Coach Pesonen's team in a 1951 scrimmage and the rivalry ran high. Early in the second quarter, Jim Awada broke away on a reverse run and went 70 yards to the 12. He took a pitchout and skirted left end for the score. Frank Odland carried over on an option play in the third quarter and threw a long pass to Dick Walker for another score. Confidence was high for the Homecoming game with Waconia, on the Marshall High field, but both teams were nearly stalemated and the game was mostly a defensive contest. Dick Walker was the only Gopher to gain honors to the all-conference team. Ken Baker was elected captain at the end of the season. U High will have nearly a complete starting team returning for the 1953 season.

After two weeks of practice the "A" squad was cut to twelve men. Coach Olson dressed only ten for each game, however. He also appointed a temporary team captain before each game so that more boys could get the experience of piloting the team. As the season ended, the Little Gophers elected Dick Walker as the honorary captain of the team. In a pre-season scrimmage with Mound, the Little Gophers found themselves on the top side of 35-32 score. However, in the first official tilt of the season the Gophers played Bloomington. Bloomington was heavily favored to pace the conference and the Gophers found themselves on the short end of that game despite a pace setting 28 points by Dick Walker. The next tilt found us against Eden Prairie, a game which we won 50-42. The following three games the Little Gophers lost by close margins. In the first return game of the year we played Watertown. It was also the first game in U. High's new gym. For the first time, the Little Gophers enjoyed a home court in which they can both practice and play their games. The stands were packed that night but at the end the crowd saw Watertown on the top side of a 49-30 score. The Gophers scored a second win over Eden Prairie and a win over Waconia in their last conference game of the year to end the season with three wins and eleven losses. This placed the Gophers sixth in the conference.

This year the Little Gophers "B" squaders ended an impressive season with a 10 win and 4 loss record. Although last year's team was small and entirely sophomores, this year's squad had a big reserve with about twenty 8th, 9th, and 10th graders. Dave Melby, a student at the University, coached the Gophers in their first game, to a win over Bloomington. They won their second of the season over Eden Prairie. However, four consecutive defeats from Chaska, Orono, Shakopee, and Watertown followed. From the next game, which was with Waconia, to the end of the season, the Little Gopher "B" squaders were undefeated. Playing an important part in beating every team in the league were four freshmen; Dick Gurtek, Terry Atherton, Bruce Nimmer, and Jeff Ganfield; and two sophomores; Jack Foker and Shelly Mills. At the beginning of the season the Gophers looked good, however, at the end of the season they were 100% better.

Interest in wrestling was active at U High and the wrestling teams have been good. Last year the team took sixth in the state and in previous years the team has done well too. Many of the boys were out trying to make the squad, getting in shape and getting down to weight. There were boys to fill all the ten weights except heavyweight, with younger boys giving the veterans competition. The win-loss column of the dual meets was not impressive, but region 5 is a rugged one and seldom fails to produce the state champion. Wally Hunt, Jim Ellis, and Ken Baker were consistent point getters, winning nearly all their matches.

In the sub-regions, Ed Maki and Ken Baker were the only wrestlers to win their matches and took third and fourth places respectively in the regional matches.

This swimming season proved to be one of the most successful in the history of the team. Pacing the mermen to a 7 win 5 loss record were Dick Weisbrod, Joey Lund, and John Wolf in the races and Fletcher Davis and Eugene Carlson in the diving. Weisbrod, only a junior, was elected captain at the beginning of the season.

The team functioned very well throughout the year. The only schools that they didn't beat were Rochester, who won the state, and Winona, who placed high in the state. Most impressive of the wins were over Southwest, Murray, St. Thomas, and Washburn. The Little Gopher mermen placed first and second constantly in 100 and 50 yard free style events and the 100 yard backstroke event.

Of all the meets that the Gophers entered, none was as important as the state swimming meet. Finishing in sixth place for the Little Gophers was Dick Weisbrod in the 50 yard free style. John Wolf splashed his way to a sixth place in 100 yard backstroke event, also.

Weisbrod again placed in the 100 yard free style and this time finished fourth with a time of 59.5 seconds, only five seconds off the state record. At the end of the meet the Little Gopher mermen found themselves in 11th place in the state meet with a total of 5 points.

Not to be forgotten is coach Robert Anderson, a new faculty member. Coach Anderson was a former Y.M.C.A. swimming instructor. When considering the prospects for next year one can be sure that the Little Gophers will be good.

1952 TRACK

Without a baseball team, many of the U High boys went out for track. They worked hard and participated in several meets: the State Invitational, the Carlton Relays, the Mound Relays and the District. The team had only two dual meets but they had the experience of whipping Bloomington, winning almost all the events except the sprints. Russ Mills came in fourth in the half mile and Rolf Engle was fifth in the mile.

1952 TENNIS

Eighteen boys went out for tennis and all but five participated in some of the matches. The team had matches with schools in both the Lake conference and the Minnesota Valley conference and beat them. U High won five matches during their regular season and dropped only four. The District matches were held at Robbinsdale in May. U High did well by taking third place behind St. Louis Park and Edina. This spring the tennis team will have four returning lettermen and several other enthusiasts competing to make the squad.

A first year in high school proves to be a busy one with a lot of hard work; yet, our seventh graders took this big step right in their stride. Having two very capable advisors, Mr. R. Anderson and Mr. Kegler, the class started their busy year by electing their class officers. Jo Ellen Krinsky, president; Jerry Skeie, vice-president; David Kienitz, secretary and Ann Williams, treasurer. This group represented them in their various activities and duties.

Parties being a necessary part in every class program, the seventh graders gave a Christmas party for the eighth grade.

Representing the class in the Student Senate were Jane Levin and Penny Martin. Their alternates were Christopher Todd and Carolyn Keys.

The eighth graders played host to the seventh graders at a Halloween party given for the new U-Highites.

They started their year by electing John Awada president, John Palmer vice-president, and Dennis Twohig secretary-treasurer.

The eighth graders showed an alert and alive interest in student affairs. Representing them in Senate where Dick Campbell and Pat Gerald. Their alternates were David Ness and John Palmer.

Mr. M. Johnson and Mr. Ten Brinke were their advisors. Under their guidance the eighth graders became a class well known and though' of at "U-High."

Our ninth graders proved themselves to be competent workers this year in everything they did.

During this year they exercised a new type of officiating body Instead of the traditional officers they elected only a president. Then each homeroom elected its own president along with a senator. These two people from each homeroom made up what they called their council. This type of program worked well and primarily gave a fair representation of all the students.

Aside from the very business angle of school our ninth graders also were very active in extra-curricular activities. Winter quarter they organized a sleigh ride which was a really tremendous affair.

The annual Mother's Tea was under supervision of Jean Steinberg. "It Happens Every Spring" was the theme.

Representing their homerooms in Senate were John Darley, Margaret Armstrong and John Campbell. Their alternates were Dick Backstrom, Jo Ann Mayeda and Adele Whitcher.

Next year they will be a welcomed class in senior U-High.

First year in Senior High proves to be a very busy one as our sophomore class soon found out.

Under the direction of Dr. Birkmaier, Mr. Brett, Mr. Kellogg and their class officers, Cathy Tracht, president; Jack Merrill, vice-president; Roberta Robison, secretary and Arnold Baker, treasurer, the sophomore class had a full and successful year.

The big event for our sophomores was the traditional Senior Farewell, headed by Peggy Johnson and Roberta Robison and held in Shevelin Cafeteria. Dancing was the main attraction, refreshments were served also.

Representing their homerooms in Senate were, Steve Howard, Dick Watson and Tay Tinker. Their alternates were, Waleta Johnson, Cathy Tracht and George Neiberg.

The Mothers' Tea was under the direction of Cathy Tracht. Buttons and Bows was the theme chosen.

U-High is lucky to have a class like our fine sophomores. Their cheers can be heard at all our games and they are willing workers for all charity drives.

Planning the Football Homecoming was the first big project of the Junior class. Chairman of the affair was Linda Keinitz.

Representing their class were, John Levine, president; Wally Hunt, vice-president; Diane Sterner, secretary; and John Wolf, treasurer.

Under the direction of Miss Alwin, Mr. W. C. Anderson, and Mr. Modisett the class had a very full and prosperous year.

Carrying their homeroom's opinions to Senate were Steve Nieman, Diane Dupere and Wally Hunt. Their alternates were Sue Levin, Mike Mann and Sandra Erickson.

This year the annual Mother's Tea was headed by Ann Leary. "Winter Vacations" was the theme chosen.

The final and most important of all events for the Juniors was the thrilling J.S. held in Coffman Memorial Union. Sandra Erickson and Terry Olofson lead this memorable occasion.

SENIOR

The only tasks which lay before the senior class this year were the three projects which added to their graduation; Senior Assembly, Baccalaureate, and Commencement.

The class was divided into three homerooms. Miss Ryan, Miss West, and Mr. Ballet were the advisors.

Miss Ryan's homeroom, with Jimmy Awada as president, staged the Senior Assembly.

John Osterberg was elected to lead Miss West's homeroom in organizing the Baccalaureate program. The theme was, "I am only one, but I am one."

"So little done, so much to do," quoted from John Cecil Rhodes' book Union of South Africa, was the theme chosen by Russ Mills' homeroom for Commencement. An original script was written, with this theme as its title. Mr. Ballet, homeroom advisor, directed the play.

Senior class officers were Bill Tucker, President, Ed Brugler, Vice-President, Jackie Jaenisch, Secretary, and Kathy Hanson, Treasurer. Senior Senators were Don Backstrom, Don Garland, and Roger Johnson.
